"I think this program is absolutely wonderful! We have several students who dream of working for NASA this year! So it was very important that we could bring them here. Thank you all so much for keeping it going!" - Paducah Public School Teacher

All proceeds benefit the Challenger Learning Center at Paducah. The Challenger Learning Center, located on the campus of West Kentucky Community & Technical College, is a non-profit organization that offers simulated space missions and hands on science education to schools, corporations and community organizations.
